Math – Fractions

Students will use be able compare fractions with like and unlike denominators using various models.

Need to Know!

This past week has been pretty fun! We have learned a lot about fractions, started learning about biology in science, begun wrapping up Esperanza and started our biocube project and shared our opinion papers. Next week will be a bit of an odd week, here it goes

Monday - MLK Jr. Day - No School

Tuesday - Regular Day

Wednesday - Early Release - Dismissal begins at 12:08

Thursday - teacher quarterly planning - students will work on reading project

Friday - Regular Day

Esperanza Rising journals and questions are due Thursday 1/21. The book order was placed, but it is taking an inordinately long time to receive them. I would HIGHLY suggest purchasing the book over the weekend as their final assessment will require content over the whole book.

Please continue using Tenmarks. Many students have not completed any of their weekly work and the next objectives are due 1/18. Email me i Tenmarks.com

Remember to check the Weebly for assessment dates, homework, and news.
